Title: Frostburg Library to Host Edgar Allan Poe Event Featuring Local Authors and Educators

The Friends of the Frostburg Community Library are excited to announce a special event celebrating the legacy of Edgar Allan Poe on October 22 at 6 PM. This evening of literary discussion will feature notable local authors and educators sharing how Poe's life and writings have shaped their careers.

Join Amy Branam Armiento (editor), Andy Duncan (author), Emily Michael (educator), and Jamison Odone (author and illustrator) as they explore Poe's lasting influence on their work and creative endeavors. From literary analysis to storytelling and illustration, this panel will offer fascinating insights into the impact of one of America's most iconic writers.

Caitlin, the Service Leader of the Frostburg Library, shares her excitement for the event: "Edgar Allan Poe's writing has a timeless appeal, and we are thrilled to host this event where local voices will share how his legacy has touched their lives and careers. It's the perfect way to celebrate Poe's influence and engage our community in literary discussion."
