FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Title: Celebrate Creativity with the Allegany County Library

The Allegany County Library System is excited to announce two upcoming events designed to inspire and celebrate creativity in our community.

From March 24 to April 6, library cardholders of all ages are invited to participate in the Washington Street Library's Poetry Contest. This contest encourages self-expression and the power of words. Participants are asked to submit an original poem for a chance to win a $50 cash prize. The contest is open to individuals of all ages, making it a great opportunity for aspiring poets of any background to showcase their talents. Winners will be announced at a special celebration on April 22.

Continuing its tradition, the Frostburg Library is hosting its annual Tiny Art Show, inviting community members to create miniature works of art. Participants will receive a "tiny" canvas from the library, which they can use to create their masterpiece. These small works of art will be displayed at the Frostburg Library as part of the Frostburg Spring Arts Walk on Saturday, April 26, and will remain on display through May 19.

Registration for the Tiny Art Show opens on March 29, and artwork is due by April 19. This event is an excellent opportunity for local artists and inspiring artists to demonstrate their talent and creativity in a unique format.

The Allegany County Library is dedicated to fostering community engagement through creative programs. The Poetry Contest and Tiny Art Show provide opportunities for individuals of all ages to express themselves through writing and art, while also enhancing the cultural experience for library visitors. These programs highlight the library's commitment to supporting local talent and enriching the community's cultural landscape.
